LEAGUE presents TOPICS CANADA VITAL INTEREST

FOOD ON THE SUMMER HOLIDAY

The sanitary preparation and storage of food is something of vital importance to every housewife. The safety and health of her family depends on it, and it, in turn, depends to a very large extent on the adequacy of her equipment and the manner in which she disposes of it. This can be especially true during the summer months.

Of course, if the family people nowadays, and the many people who go to a summer hotel or boarding house for their holidays, she will find no problem beyond making sure that they do get good, properly prepared food, as the recent article in "REALITY" on restaurants by Mr. H. C. Rhodes made only too plain. It is not always as automatic as it might be. On the other hand, if she goes to a summer cottage, takes a motor car to a trailer, or goes up to the north woods where she and her family can pitch a tent and rough it, she will find that it becomes her responsibility, sometimes under rather difficult conditions.

If she is fortunate—and rich—she may spend her vacation in a summer cottage equipped with electricity, running water, from a central water source, and up-to-date means to eliminate waste. In such a home, she may have the latest refrigerator and compact kitchen equipment very different from that in her city home. Other things, however, no electricity available, and no running water, include the great majority, will find themselves at a loss.

It is the responsibility of the winter seasons of the country, she may have to cook over an open fire, without gas and get her water from the nearest brook or spring. She will have to make her own convenience and comfort presents no problem. It is no different from the old-fashioned well-equipped home. But the summer season is a different one. Above, which most of us have to contend with to a greater or less degree, is the fact that the summer season is the season of care and ingenuity if we are to avoid the worst.

Some of The Dangers
Water Supply. Probably the first serious danger of summer campers, even those in well-equipped cottages, is the water supply. If you prefer, carry a bottle of chlorine tablets and use them according to directions. It may seem foolish to take such a precaution, but it is to be safe than be laid up with a fever.

Food. But even if the water supply may be contaminated, if you buy milk to be really safe, get a small bottle of iodine from your local health department. If you prefer, carry a bottle of chlorine tablets and use them according to directions. It may seem foolish to take such a precaution, but it is to be safe than be laid up with a fever.

Gift Parcel Sent To English Postman

- New Zealand Woman Shows Appreciation For Service

The story appears in the New Zealand Women's Weekly. One morning, in a rural village in England, the postman delivered two food parcels from New Zealand to the inhabitants of one of the cottages. The recipient smilingly handed one back to the postman and said, "This is from my sister. She wrote and told me that she had been thinking of you, and to thank you for the numerous letters and parcels which you have delivered to me from her during the war." The postman did not seem, but there were tears in his eyes as he left. The next day he was able to tell the woman how much he appreciated it. It is no happiness of all the hundreds of parcels he delivered. It was the only one he received. He was so glad to hear that his service was appreciated. He was so glad to hear that his service was appreciated.

Kitchen Is Most Dangerous Room

The Metropolitan Life Bulletin states that the kitchen is the most dangerous room in the house. It is estimated from studies of home accidents among Metropolitan policyholders and among other groups that in the neighborhood of 60,000 men, women and children are killed each year in the United States from mishaps originating in the kitchen. Many times that number each year are more or less seriously injured, though not fatally. The kitchen, as a rule, is the centre of domestic activity, and the household and family members of the family concerned with running the household find a good part of their time there. Here, the activities usually are carried on in the kitchen—cooking, baking, washing, ironing—except the family to a wide range of accidents, such as burns and scalds, gas poisoning, cutting, poisoning, with electric current, and falls.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Sandra's Sanatorium

By A. G. GILBERT

SANDRA MARLOW stood at the kitchen door and gazed in silent amazement.

Price was eating the shrimp! The afternoon had gone badly enough. The Women's Club, after a session at Dr. Dug's Marlow's breakfast, was laboring in jactitation when she tried—unable to discuss Grayson's need—a modest remark.

"Mr. Brent-Wayne put out correct figures on Sandra's slender arm. 'We're so interested in other things,' she said, 'but I have a hint of quickly downing it—'Pleasant!'

Prissy she heard the doctor's quick voice. "Hurry," she told him to hurry, "the waiter is desperately trying to help him."

NEWFOUNDLAND RESENTS U. S. Defense Bases

OTTAWA. — P. Gordon Bradley, chairman of the Newfoundland convention, said that people of that colony "resented" the United States military bases which are in Newfoundland on 50-year leases.

The Newfoundland delegation, which meets a committee of the cabinet, came to Ottawa to protest the possibility of Newfoundland coming into confederation as a tenth province.

Mr. Bradley said that the 50-year leases given to the United States for the use of Newfoundland as a military territory for as long as the lease runs Newfoundland will give up all sovereignty over the territory now occupied by United States forces.

Montgomery Gives Excellent Advice

Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery explained the rules which brought him victory over Germany and told the National Federation of Young Farmers' Clubs in London that they should be well taught to get the most results in farming.

He said farmers must learn to be capable judges of men. Henry Ford on his farm, always learn to be good judges.

A farm worker must think and plan well ahead and to obtain the best results should have all study the human factor. Consideration must prevail to make the worker willing to respond and prove an active worker.

Using arms and tools, he told his listeners never to "believe" that farmers would be better off than they are. It is time to come rather than give up and, Britain's only war staff command, there is no better way to learn how to give them.

Insights seems to have been spread through the ranks of the Canadian and was thought to be an affliction from heaven.

SEA FISH BELIEVED EXISTENCE KNOWN NEAR SOUTH AFRICA

GRAHAMSTOWN, Cape Province. — South African scientists are organizing a hunt to catch a "monster" fish, a full size belated extinct for the last 200,000 years.

First, catch the fish, a coelacanth, still survived, came in 1938 when a fossil brought up a specimen of the fish was 127 million years old.

The fish died three hours after it was landed and one of the fishermen said in 30 years of fishing he had never seen a "monster" fish.

It is said the fish is in an African museum.
